1st Edition 2002, 2nd Edition 2011, 3rd edition 2015

This is a brief history of the ancestry of my mother, Enid (LEINER) Bach. Daughter of Frederic "Fred" Thomas and Hazelton "Hazel" Marye (DILLARD) Leiner born at 515 West Broadway, Sparta City, Sparta Precinct, Randolph County, Illinois, United States on 7 August 1912. Third child of six, Enid's family moved to 3011 Forest Place, East Saint Louis Ward 8, Saint Clair County, Illinois, United States while she was young. In 1941, Enid married Robert Louis Bach son of Blase and Mary Agnes (JOFFRAY) Bach. Raising three children in and around East Saint Louis, Missouri, Enid's life story is shown through pictures and commentary through the eyes of her daughter; Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

This book is truly a great memorial to a woman who was so dearly loved.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With great appreciation for the contributions of those who have gone before me, providing me cherished memories and a roadmap to follow. I especially thank my mother’s cousin Helen (GRIFFIN) Lapp, and my mother, Enid (LEINER) Bach, my own dear sister Melanie Jane (BACH) Carter and my favorite brother, Michael William Bach, for pictures, for clues, for caring.

This work is for my children and their children, with love. I have made every effort to be accurate and thorough in this work, but error is possible.

This effort would not have been possible without the support and guidance of my noble husband, Floyd Thomas Pratt F.H.C., M.A.G.I. whom I shall continue to pester throughout eternity.

ENID (LEINER) BACH

"THAT'S MY STORY AND I'M STICKING TO IT"

ENID (LEINER) BACH...THAT'S MY STORY AND I'M STICKING TO IT!

By Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

This is a brief history of the ancestry of my mother, Enid (LEINER) Bach. Laugh it up kids, I can too be brief. I was born 2nd of 3 and developed middle child syndrome four years later when Mike came along. Two of my kids will understand. Enid would too because she was 3rd of 6. Her Daddy was big, strong willed and handsome in a German Arian way. Lets talk about the Leiner side first.

Leiner was the canonized name for linen maker in Austria, from whence the family hailed in the 1400s. The Leiner was a weaver and tailor to an Austrian princess. When the princess traveled to northern Germany, the Leiner, and possibly his family, went along. They settled in a little town near Hamburg, near Bremerhaven called Wilhelmshaven. (Wil helms Haven) The family stayed there 400 years.

History lesson: The Germans have been a warring people for hundreds of years. The countryside and populace have sorely suffered the ravages of war. Read all about it.

In 1850, when Gerhard Julius and Enza Margaretha (BENNAN) Leiner had a beloved son conscripted to war, drafted at gunpoint on the spot, and never heard from again, they moved to America with several children. They entered the USA at New Orleans and proceeded up the Mississippi by riverboat to St. Louis, where a relative awaited, per the 1850 census of Missouri. By 1860 they were in Randolph County, Illinois.

There is some slight controversy over the birthplace of our progenitor; Frederick (1st), the son of Gerhard. On his marriage application, signed by Enza Leiner, her name was probably all she could write in English, and her language was German, it says Fred was BORN AT SEA.

I believe this was a misunderstanding. I think they asked Enza if Fred 2nd was born in Germany? NO. Was he born here (meaning in the USA, to the authority asking her questions) but (meaning southern Illinois to Enza) NO? She meant born in St. Louis. They guessed: born AT SEA. Later census records with data given by Fred, who was probably fluent in both languages, stated Missouri.

While in St. Louis, Gerhard worked as a milk deliveryman. He may have worked some of the time with milking or caring for the animals, but he probably had a daily route of driving a horse and wagon up & down the streets, stopping every few houses to pour milk from five gallon milk cans into each hausenfrau's (housewife's) milk pitcher. I have the old milk pitcher used by Frau Bach; a green glazed pottery pitcher, which held a liter.

By 1860 the family had gone to southern Illinois to the Sparta area where Gerhard was a laborer. With a growing family, some of the older girls took work away from home. The older son Henry learned to butcher meat, a really nasty profession. Younger Benjamin sold meat in his store. He also bought and sold antique furniture. Young Fred learned to recognize good beef and pork on the hoof, and he traveled, buying and shipping meat to rail yards and big towns. He taught his son Fred, my grandfather, the same trade. Enid went with her dad on a buying trip into Missouri.

Back to Fred #1: Born in Missouri 31 July 1851, raised in southern Illinois, the 5th of 13 children, he must have been tall & good looking! But he didn't marry until he was 30.

Fred's choice, Lorena Belle (TAGGART), was another story: Born the 2nd of 9 children, with two sets of twins after her birth, Lorena was given to her Aunt Amanda & Uncle Edward Lively (I think) to raise at age 4 or 5, along with their four sons. She grew up climbing trees and riding horses bareback.

With this experience, is it any wonder Lorena & Fred had only two sons, Leonard & Fred.

Lorena Bell (TAGGART)’s family line is interesting, including her father John Louis, born in southern Illinois. His father Amos, his father John born in Ireland 1788, and his father James born in the 1760’ s in Ireland. They were of Scottish decent, and Protestant, not Catholic. James brought at least 3 children with him to South Carolina from Ireland seeking space and religious freedom, a daughter, Rebecca, and sons, John & Daniel. The boys went to Illinois in the 1810’s to fight in the Indian wars. In 1820 the brothers were given land grants in Illinois for their service in the Indian wars. The Taggarts were some of the first settlers in the only county in Illinois, Randolph County, and they located just across the river from the old French settlement of Ste. Genevieve in Missouri. My children, here we have family ties to your daddy’s ancestry.

Back in Great Britain, Taggarts were among those Scots moved to Ireland by the British Crown to control the Irish uprisings. (Here is another history lesson worth study.) Our earliest progenitor of the Scottish highland clan is regarded as Fearchar Mac-an-t-sagiart, which translates from the original Scottish as “son of the priest”, Laird of Applecross, who was created Earl of Ross in 1234.

The Ross clan, traditionally regarded as being one of the oldest Celtic families, took its name from the ancient province of Ross. Lots more to this story. NOT OUR ONLY ROYALTY! You might remember our good friend...Faye (ROSS) in Springfield, whom moved down to Bradenton, Florida and we followed her in 1995? She is of this Ross Clan.

Other names on Enid’s dad’s side are Crisler (or Kreisler or Chrysler of Germany), Garr, Von Der Schellen, Clore, and Schaffer.

Lorena’s mom was a Harmon (Harman, Herman, and Hermann) of Germany.

Harmon means “war man”; Harmons are also in the Pratt line. Yes, your tree has no branches.

Other names are Seigel, Pillars, Gaston (or Gaskin). Pillars & Gaston were American Revolutionary War soldiers. So, that is Enid’s dad’s side.

Next, Enid’s mom, Hazeltine “Hazel” Marye (DILLARD), named after General Marye, a French soldier who fought the British in our revolution. A town in Virginia near the old Dillard homestead is named Marye. I wonder, did he travel thru there? Did my ancestors shelter this brave hero and his troops?

Hazel was born the ninth and last child. The first two were born in Virginia, and then seven more were born in Kansas. Her dad, William Wirt Dillard, ran the family’s general store in VA, the Twyman store. His mom was Emily Ann (TWYMAN). They grew up living two miles apart. During the Civil War he was a northern sympathizer and spy among his southern friends and relatives. After the war, he moved his family to Kansas, which had been a northern state. William Wirt Dillard had a general store and employed people to make cigars of the tobacco he grew. He was also the local weatherman.

William Wirt Dillard’s dad, James Duval, was the son of Thomas (Jr), who was son of Thomas (Sr), whose will was filed in 1774. Land records show him on the Dillard farm called Aspen Grove or plantation in Berkeley Parish (township), Spotsylvania County, Va. as a planter.

The 1st Thomas was a son of Edward Dillard who was born in Wiltshire, England. Edward was a son of John d’Illard, the 1st Dillard to America in 1650, from the Isle of Mann, an island between England and Scotland. We are descendants of the Illard from France, who fought the battle of Hastings with William the Conqueror, in 1066, and signed the Battle Abbey roles.

His actual name was John Carbonne d’Illard, from the north shore of the Rhine River, in France.

When William the conqueror became King William I of England, he awarded lands and Knighthoods to his supporters. The Dillard family thereafter lived on the Isle of Mann.

The first Thomas married 1st Elizabeth (HOLLIDAY). Their sons were Joseph, Capt. William, Capt. John, James, and Thomas Jr. Some fought in the American Revolution. Our line derives from John. Daughters were Ann Pettes, Jane Duvall, Lucy Luck, and Hannah. The 2nd marriage to Sarah (DUVAL) had issue Richard, Mary and Fielding.

John married Ellis (DUVAL) they had the following children; Joseph, Ann, James Duval (our line) Clementina, Ryand and Ellis, James Duval Dillard married 1st Mary M. (COLEMAN), had children; Sarah Ellis and John Lindsey Dillard. James married 2nd Emily Ann (TWYMAN), our line. James and Emily had the following children...Rebecca Melinda, Dr. George Buford, Ann M., Mary Walker, James Twyman, Alex, Thorne Twyman, Thomas F. and our progenitor William Wirt Dillard Sr. Emily’s parents were George Buford Twyman II and Ann (TWYMAN) first cousins. Emily’s line goes back to the 1600’s in America, family names include Montague, Perreau, French royalty.

There is much more, but I’m being brief. The story of Enid is in the pictures. Enjoy!

With love, your Mom

These sites were developed through the 1930's WPA. The Work Progress Association was our government's attempt to let welfare recipients earn their benefits. The original federal welfare program had men work on government projects like building parks and laying brick street pavement, building dams & public buildings like courthouses or libraries. Federal taxes paid these men $30 a month.

During the 1930's depression, many men worked for 12 cents an hour. Bread was a nickel a loaf. Many kids picked up soda bottles to turn in for a penny so they could get food. And they got shoes, maybe, once a year.

Fall color drives are popular along the wooded ravines and riverside roadways at and near Pere Marquette. In January and February, the park is a hot spot for bald eagle watching.

For many years, the park has hosted tours of the river bluffs and woods for visitors to get an up-close look at wintering bald eagles in the hundreds along the Mississippi River and lower Illinois River near the park.

Campers will find plenty to like at Pere Marquette, from campsites and cabins to the popular Youth Tent Camp and three group camps.

The beautiful Pere Marquette Lodge and Conference Center is an ideal place to stay for a weekend or weekday getaway. Built in the 1930s by the Civilian Conservation Corps, the lodge has been expanded and updated in recent years. The mammoth stone fireplace in the lobby soars to a roof height of 50 feet, and is said to weigh 700 tons. There are 50 spacious guest rooms and 22 stone guest cabin rooms.

My mom is 3.

4. Fredric Thomas Leiner at about age 40. Six ft, blonde, Arian, b.1884, d.1963.

Fred was a cattle buyer in Illinois & Missouri; he traveled on business & was away often.

Fred's father; Frederic Leiner, generation 5, also named Fred, was a livestock buyer.

Fred #5's brothers, Uncle Henry, ran a slaughterhouse & Uncle Ben was the butcher & collected antiques in Sparta, Illinois. (There were 9 or 10 children in the family.)

6. Their father; Gerhard Julius Leiner & mother Enza Margaretha (BENNAN) Leiner, came to southern IL, after 2-3 years in south Saint Louis, Mo, where his kin had settled in the German community near the Anheuser Brewery in 1850.

In Saint Louis, Gerhard was a milk dealer. Source: 1860 St Louis, MO. census. They disembarked at New Orleans, in 1851, from either Hamburg or Bremerhaven, Lower Saxony, West Germany, on the north coast, near their native town of Hanover with maybe 5 kids.

They left Germany because one of their sons had been conscripted into the army at an early age-maybe 15. The family never heard of him again. They feared losing more children to the army.

The 1860 St Louis City Census shows the Leiner family with 7 children. 2 daughters are definitely missing- Mille and Caroline. Also, the one son, John.

Since my own father's parents had died when he was young, my daddy adopted grandmother and Pop Leiner and loved them. Dad helped them with home repairs and whatever he could.

Frederick and Lorena Belle (TAGGART) Leiner's home on Broadway, Sparta, Sparta Precinct, Randolph County, Illinois rebuilt after a fire. Posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

This home on 515 West Broadway, Sparta City, Sparta Precinct, Randolph County, Illinois, United States was bought by Frederic "Fred" Leiner (#1) and Lorena Belle (TAGGART) Leiner, where they raised their sons Lacey Leonard and Frederic Thomas, my grandpa.

The house may have appeared differently then. It was rebuilt after a fire.

Lacey married Mona (MANN), 28 Sept 1904, and moved to East St. Louis. They had 2 children, Margaret and Lacey.

After Fred (#1) died 5 Oct 1906, Lorena and her favorite son, young Fred (#2), my grandfather, continued to live here.

Fred (#2), age 22, married Hazelton "Hazel" Marye (DILLARD), 21, in Fort Scott, Bourbon County, Kansas on 6 June 1907 and brought her to his parent's home in Sparta, Illinois.

In 1911 they moved to East Saint Louis, Illinois. He worked as a stockman at the National City Stockyards and eventually started his own business, i.e., the Leiner Commission Company.

Fred and Hazel had 2 children by 1911, Dillard Taggart Leiner & Doris (LEINER) and maybe a miscarriage. Then Hazel's 4th pregnancy, which was Enid, began in December 1911.

In the fall of 1911, influenza & race riots in Saint Louis spread across the Mississippi River to Illinois, via the Eads Bridge, built in 1885.

For the safety of the family, they relocated back to Sparta until the danger subsided. During this time at Sparta, Enid was born.

A girlfriend of mine in East Saint Louis, Barbara (WIERCISZEWSKI), was the daughter of a policeman. Her dad described the terror, recounting memories of fellow officers: "black men were hanging from the Eads Bridge and "It was not a safe time to be on the street". Also, a major flu epidemic hit the nation in 1911-1912; the flu was worst where there were concentrations of people, like in the cities and schools.

When Hazel was pregnant with 3rd child Enid, grandmother Lorena Belle (TAGGART) Leiner took a voyage to England. She vowed to record in her journal every day.

After the first day at sea, Lorena became so seasick, she remained in her quarters, and did not go on deck the rest of the voyage. A sweet Welsh girl named Enid took care of Lorena. Lorena asked her son; Fred to name the baby after this sweet girl. This is how my mom got her name.

Fred's mother; Lorena was born 5th of 9 or more with 2 sets of twins. Because of the physical drain on her own mom, Ann Ellis (HARMON) Taggart, at about age 4, Lorena was given to her aunt; Amanda (TAGGART) Lively to raise, with the Lively's 4 boys.

Lorena grew up a tomboy climbing trees and riding a horse with the boys. She had long auburn hair that she braided. It would come loose during the ride so that it flew in long tresses when she came riding home. When she grew old and could no longer care for her hair, it was cut short. I have her long auburn braid.

Lorena saw her own family suffer with too many children to care for. She did not want that for her son. She advised Fred to limit his family size.

Before spring of 1917 the Fred Leiner family moved back to 3011 Forest Place in East St. Louis, where Lorene (LEINER) was born in March 1917, then son; Fred Corbin Leiner in 1925, then Gloria Jean (LEINER)-unnamed on her birth certificate, in 1928.

The Leiners still lived at 3011 Forest Place when Enid married Bob. The Leiners moved to 112 Kenwood, Collinsville, Illinois in the mid 1940's.

The Dillard homestead named Aspen Grove in Berkeley Parish, Spotsylvania County, Virginia. Posted by Bonnie Katheen (BACH) Pratt

THE DILLARD HOMESTEAD

This house is Aspen Grove Plantation, where the Dillards lived and where William Wirt was born. This is where he went home with daughter; Hazeltine to visit in 1904. His mother, Emily (TWYMAN) Dillard, had already died in 1880.

On the left is the garden, white pine tree, arbor vitae tree and the parlor window is open. Estella is standing by the fence. On the front porch, English ivy on locust tree, Mary Walker (DILLARD) by the steps, Italian arbor vitae and locust tree.

This house burned in 1896. Aunt Charlotte, a former slave, discovered the fire. She lived down a hill back of the house (evidently the slaves quarters). The house was rebuilt 1898.

In front of the picket fence is the horseback mounting blocks. A flagstone path led from the gate to the porch and was still there in 1992, but the house was razed in 1991, a year before I got there.

A mile or so to the left is the lake. The house faced west. Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Left is Italian arbor vita tree, Aunt Charlotte, Estelle, the little black one on basement steps is Mary Ann, Nanni, Raleigh born 1877, locust tree, Mary Walker (DILLARD), rose bush under chamber window (bathroom), Fido, pigeon house.

The back yard sloped down the hill, where the slave's quarters were. In 1896 a fire damaged the house one night. Aunt Charlotte, still living down the hill, came running up to awaken the sleeping family. The damage was repaired in 1898, the house stood until about 1991 when the county razed it - just a year before I got there to see it.

The Dillards were in charge of the county road that ran past their farm and the bridge across the Pamunkey River on the north side of their land. From the river it was 2 miles to the Twyman farm & store.

Today the massive concrete bridge over the (now) Pamunkey Fork of the Lake Anna Dam & Reservoir, south of Belmont, Virginia is still called the Dillard Bridge. Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

The Maple Grove Baptist Church near the Twyman's Post Office and store circa 1992. Posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

At the Twyman homestead "Aspen Grove" Plantation, George Buford Twyman II donated 2 acres and helped construct the church facing west. It is on the north edge of his land, across a dirt trace from his farm field where the family burial plot lay. The graveyard, 20x20', is surrounded by a 4' concrete wall. It has many broken stones with one good stone plus broken tree limbs, which have been thrown in there.

Maple Grove Baptist Church, still solid but not used for services. The church is about 200 ft back down the dirt road from the county blacktop highway 271. At the NE corner of the blacktop Hwy 271 and dirt crossroad (that would be behind the church) are molding wooden timbers evidence and remains of a building that was once the famous Twyman General Store and US Post Office. Behind it just to the right of the photo is the privy.

William W Dillard worked in his Grandfather George Buford Twyman 2nd's store. Here he overheard the Union officers discuss battle plans, which he later told to the Confederate Army.

A large battle was fought and lost by the South. After the war, due to the devastation and poor economic conditions, forced William and his family to go west to Kansas. Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Then a little 2-bedroom bungalow on Adelaide became home until August of 1945, when Bonnie was the baby in the woven wood laundry basket.

Then they moved to 614 North 82nd Street East Saint Louis, Illinois, and set the basket on the kitchen counter. The linoleum floor got filthy from the move; Enid said it took forever to get it clean.

THE OLD CATHOLIC CHURCH CATHEDRAL ESTABLISHED IN 1764

Founding fathers Pierre Laclede and Auguste Chouteau deed a tract of land to the people of St. Louis where a one-room log structure is erected as the first Catholic Church in the newly founded city. Known originally as Laclede's Village, it is later named St. Louis by Laclede to honor King Louis IX of France.

A second, larger log church is built in place of the first church in 1776... a new church more in keeping with the growing importance and dignity of the young city that was becoming a town of marked beauty, size and prominence.

1815-1818 Bishop DeBourg is consecrated Bishop of Louisiana and the Floridas. He takes up residence in St. Louis in 1818 and lays the cornerstone for a new brick church to replace the second log church. Due to a strong interest in educating the Osage Indians, the Bishop opens a school known as the Academy of St. Louis, the predecessor of Saint Louis University.

1826-1827 St. Louis is constituted as a separate diocese, distinct from the Diocese of New Orleans, and Reverend Joseph Rosati becomes the first Bishop of the Diocese of St. Louis.

By 1831, the 55-year-old log church is deteriorating and can no longer accommodate the growing parish. Rather than enlarge it, Bishop Rosati decides to replace it all together. The cornerstone of the new church is laid in August of 1831, and the sum of $63,360.85 is raised to build the new church. It was designed by Morton and Laveill and completed in 1834.

In 1853 the vision for the Old Cathedral is finally completed under the direction of Bishop Peter R. Kenrick with extensive alterations to the interior of the church fulfilling Bishop Rosati’s original plan.

I went to their 1950 wedding at the Grout family home. Joann was the only child of a wealthy town merchant and his wife. Their afternoon wedding, her gown, the elegant antebellum home tastefully decorated, the grounds manicured. The family had slaves before the Civil War-in Illinois!

The carriage house still stood in 1991 when Enid, Doris & I visited Fred there-in Nov, I think. We got caught in a snowstorm on the way home to Collinsville.

Fred was renting out a part of the house, not all, so they would have upkeep and a heated place to store her marvelous antiques until their sons, John, & Fred, got ready to inherit the old collectors furniture.

Bonnie Kathleen (BACH), Enid (LEINER) Bach, Michael "Mike" William Bach, & Melanie Jane (BACH) just before we jumped into our '47 Pontiac to drive to our home at 614 North 82nd Street.

We had blankets to snuggle under & often fell asleep-Mel & I in the back seat. The car heater was not so good.

Next we got a 1952 2dr Plymouth midnight blue. Dad's 1st new car-he needed decent transportation to go to work at the old American Zinc Plant in Fairmont City, Illinois. He became a foreman. Good for him, less stairs to climb. He had a heart condition.

Old American Zinc in Fairmont City, St. Clair County, Illinois, operated as a primary zinc smelter from approximately 1913 until 1967. While in operation, it produced slab zinc, zinc oxides, zinc carbonate, cadmium, lead, and sulfuric acid. Slag was a by-product of the zinc smelting process. On the basis of information reviewed, the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) now concludes that the site poses a public health hazard to on-site workers and possibly to area children.

Bob & Enid moved into this house in August of 1945. I was in a wicker laundry basket, which they set on the kitchen cabinet while they moved furniture in. She said the kitchen floor got so dirty it took 3 months to get it clean.

Bob's brother, Uncle "Ollie" and my 15-year-old cousin "Gene" moved in with us to help pay the mortgage. Uncle Ollie was recently widowed.

The south side of our 82nd Street house was along the alley. By our bedroom window, Melanie (Mimi) and me, there was a giant Dutch elm tree, which squeaked when the forked branch rubbed on a wood splint on the electric line when the wind blew strongly.

We lay in our bed and watched the cars stop at the stop sign on State Street. STOP was the first word I learned to spell. Later the city put up a red, yellow and green traffic light.

Things I remember: laying on the bed on hot summer nights, burning autumn leaves in the alley, snow scenes, and Mr. Besse's rose garden and fish pond.

I remember our coal furnace, putting hot clinkers out in the snow, daddy moving them to the alley to fill in potholes. And getting cinder fragments in my hands and knees when I fell down in the alley.

Melanie left college and went to John Robert Powers modeling school in St. Louis about 1959. I took photos of her by Besse's garden.

This is a good shot of my garage that Daddy and I built around 1954. It is constructed of concrete blocks with a cement floor and a shingled roof. The overhead door opened onto the alley, and there wasn't enough space in the alley to drive in and out.

Dad had to jockey forwards and backwards to get in and out of the garage. This experience helped me later in life when I built a block fruit cellar in our basement at #3 Lantana Court in St. Peters, MO.

FOREST PARK HIGHLANDS: BRIEF HISTORY IT STARTED AS A BEER GARDEN

FOREST PARK HIGHLANDS WAS OPENED IN 1896

(Reprinted from an article by Beulah Schacht, July, 1946)

In: DOG TOWN DISPATCH, Oct. 3, 1983. Vol. 1, No. 36, p. 1-2.

Special thanks to my cousin, Jim Corbett, for the loan of this issue of the Dog Town Dispatch

From beer garden to amusement park, through depression and rain, Forest Park Highlands this year celebrates its golden anniversary after 50 consecutive seasons.

The idea for a beer garden and restaurant on the site of the old Johnson estate first occurred to gentlemen remembered only as the Rice brothers.

Financed by the Home Brewery Company, they opened the Highlands Cottage Restaurant in 1896. To attract further attention, they installed a horse drawn merry-go-round.

Even that failed to keep the grove going more than one season and it was lost to the brewery, owned by the Stuever family, which soon formed a company owned principally by the late Anton "Tony" Stuever.

A now yellowed and brittle copy of the St. Louis Republic of May 23, 1897, carried a small notice stating that Forest Park Highlands ("the finest and largest open-air enterprise in the West") was open for business.

Attractions offered were "10 new and novel features including a scenic railway." Admission to the grounds was free. On the stage of Col. John D. Hopkins' Vaudeville Theater one could see Comedienne Marie Dressler - 10 cents in the gallery, 20 cents in the balcony and 30 cents downstairs.

MANY CELEBRITIES

Where the Rice brothers failed. Tony Stuever succeeded and each year found new additions in the park.

"We had all kinds of celebrities on the stage," related Max Bitterlich, superintendent, who joined the organization in 1900 and has been an employee of the Highlands ever since. "I was just a kid when I started here and I remember when Marie Dressler jokingly gave me $15 for 14 kisses.

"The old-timers will remember Pipinta, the great dances, and The Girl With the Auburn Hair. I remember her, too. She dressed all in white and sang at an altar. While she was singing I was pumping the organ."

Others who performed before the 10-20-30 audiences were Sophie Tucker, Eugene Cowles, baritone; Della Fox, who originated the fishhook curl which graced many feminine foreheads for some time, and Charity Simpson, a Gypsy Rose Lee of long ago.

Both James J. Corbett and Jack Dempsey gave exhibition performances there. As Bitterlich said: "They came and went every week. You can't remember all the people who were here.

One of the greatest attractions to the horse and buggy trade was the band concerts, held in the pagoda built originally for the St. Louis World's Fair and moved to the park in 1905.

There were band concerts every afternoon and evening, and among the greats who performed was John Phillip Sousa.

The "thrill" rides of yesteryear, while not as speedy on the whole as those of today, were many times as dangerous.

Outstanding among them was the Loop-the-Loop installed in 1902. Dan Elie, who now operates the Tilt-a-Whirl, used to ride in the contraption to prove how safe it was, but there were many accidents.

PEOPLE DIFFERENT THEN

"People were different then than now," who became general manager in 1926. (sic, something is missing here) "It didn't occur to them that it was anyone's fault but their own if they got hurt. Now we have to be very sure that the rides are safe, in good condition and, as nearly fool-proof as possible before we allow them to be used."

On the other hand, this generation would never stand still for anything as tame as "Hale's Tours." It was nothing more than a series of pictures, which gave the illusion of movement while the customer sat in a chair.

The Highlands Cottage Restaurant continued until prohibition, which caused a great falling off of business in that concession. It had been housed in the Johnson mansion, a building now 125 years old, and after the law was repealed, it became the Penny Arcade - which is still going strong.

The organization changed hands in 1922 when Tony Stuever's health failed and he sold his interest to the late Ben G. Brinkman, but operation continued as before.

DEPRESSION A REAL TEST

It was during the depression, however, that the real test came. "We managed to keep just a half jump ahead of the Sheriff, like everyone else," Ketchum recalled.

It was during that period, in 1934, that both the Arena and Forest Park Highlands were sold to the Reorganization Investment Company for $848,560.

The struggle to keep above water for a few years was responsible for the introduction of Dollar Day, which long ago passed out of the picture.

For one buck you could spend an entire afternoon or evening at the park, riding anything you wished. The only restriction was that you get off after each ride and give the other fellow a chance.

Although depressions occur only occasionally, the Highlands, like other outdoor amusement parks, is always threatened by the weather, but the year 1915 offered the greatest hazard. Out of a 120-day season, 90 days were practically scratched off the calendar by rain.

In honor of this year's celebration, a new entrance to the park has been built at a cost of some $125,000. It's a far cry from the structure which faced the public from 1909 until early this year and a still farther cry from the modest little wooden affair put up around 1896.

"You know." Ketchum concluded, we often have elderly women come up to the office and tell us about the old days when they came here and that now they're bringing their great grand-children. I wonder what they think of the change."

Regardless of what they think of it, Ketchum insists that the new entrance is no longer an entrance - from now on it will be referred to as "the rotunda."

Added in 1983 by the editors of the Dogtown Dispatch:

For many years after the fair, the amusement park's bandstand was a huge Japanese gate structure from the World's Fair's Pike. Known as the "Big Place on the Hill", the Highlands was the City's largest amusement park and the scene of countless school picnics and pleasure jaunts.

It boasted of two roller coasters, the "Mountain Ride" and the "Racer Dip," a merry-go-round, all sorts of rides, shooting galleries, swimming pool, dance ballroom, a fun house, and a large picnic grounds. In its later years, the Forest Park Highlands suffered from a decline in business and met a tragic end when it was destroyed by fire in 1963. Its site is now occupied by the Junior College. [End of Quote]

Should be noted, Floyd Thomas Pratt's father; Floyd Theodore Pratt aged 21 in September 1948 met Dorothy (BEDNAREK) at one of the dance pavilions at Highlands Amusement Park. When they danced for the first time, Dorothy being 5'11", six foot Floyd said, "Kinda tall aren't you" Dorothy replied, "I know it fella, you don't have to tell me!" Floyd realized Dorothy had spirit and was feisty, sort of sassy and this appealed to him and he took notice she was a fun and an interesting person...and tall. He decided to pursue a relationship. So, with the beginning of light-minded banter, a romance began to blossom. They were married 18 February 1949. Floyd Thomas Pratt F.H.C., M.A.G.I.

#6 Kaskaskia Drive, Bartelso, Santa Fe Township, Clinton County, Illinois. The home of Robert “Bob” Louis & Enid (LEINER) Bach, from 1963 to 1974.

I (Bonnie) moved here in September 1964, Janis Karen (ELLIOTT) was 18 months; Sandra Lynn (ELLIOTT) was 2 months. I lived here when Jeffrey William (ELLIOTT) was born in 1965. My divorce from James Kenneth Elliott was final in 1967.

I stayed here until I married Clarence Raymond Surmeier in 1969. Then I moved to an apartment complex, which my parent’s owned in Ellisville, Saint Louis County, Missouri.

Enid and Bob sold their bank stock in the Bartelso Savings Bank and paid their loans. They had no cash profit but they had a capital gains income problem on paper.

A savings & loan company in St Louis had foreclosed on an apartment complex in Ellisville, Saint Louis County, Missouri and needed to unload it. They discounted the down payment and signed the property over to Bob and Enid and a partner; Harry Menzel, a small time real estate agent. Harry helped manage and upkeep the property. After we were married, Clarence and I lived there and managed the apartment complex.

Janis Karen (ELLIOTT) in the first snowfall at #6 Kaskaskia Drive in Bartelso. About November 1964. The folks moved here that summer. I came here in late September from Key West, Florida.

I was all-alone in Key West with two babies when a hurricane threatened the island.

My husband; James Kenneth Elliott was in the Navy on a submarine, submerged safely by the dock when the storm passed. He told me I would have to fend for myself.

Just hours before the storm was to hit landfall, it changed course and hit Miami.

When we took a road trip to Miami, I saw the devastation. Days later when his boat was ordered to Norfolk, Virginia for repairs, he told me he could not move me and the children to Norfolk because there were no housing available.

After 10 days alone in Key West, I decided not to stay in Key West with my babies.

It was a tavern where Robert's father; Blase Bach, then the town schoolteacher, would go each Friday afternoon to collect the farmer's milk checks and invest them in treasury bonds.

Finally, Blase got a charter and started the bank.

The proceeds would fund school activities for the next year. A great Sunday dinner was cooked and served by the ladies. Beer, kiddie rides and bingo.

Alumni and neighbors came from 50+ miles to enjoy a mild July evening.

Dad, (Robert Louis Bach) the town banker, worked very hard and was up late several nights counting picnic money, before and after the picnic.

New Bartelso Savings Bank, 1965 Open House.

When Dad became bank president in 1958, the bank was in debt by $500,000.

By 1968 he turned it around to a $2,300,000 surplus. In 1965 this new building was constructed.

To see the old building, formerly a tavern, look for the photo of Enid, Sandy, Janis & Bob at the church picnic. The bank is above Janis' head.

Also, in the book "Robert Louis Bach with Photos and Tales" there is a picture of his father, Blase, in front of the old Bartelso Savings Bank.

Bob's dad Blase had started the bank for his school pupils and their parents in about 1925. I have seen the charter.

Robert Louis and Enid (LEINER) Bach at the New Bartelso Savings Bank 1965 Open House posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

Blase had cataracts in his eyes and could not see the fine bookkeeping. Bob worked with his dad as his eyes. Blase died when Bob was 17. Bob was too young to run the bank. The board of directors named another man, who ran it poorly for 24 years. When he died, Bob was called back as a cashier and eventually became the president.

One may ask, "Why did he go back to the bank and Bartelso?" The pay was low. It kept him away from wife and family. However, he was raised Catholic, and the job allowed him to be around his Catholic roots. Also, Bob became the big fish although Bartelso was a small pond.

Enid lived alone in East Saint Louis with the kids all week while friends of Bob kept a room for him in Bartelso. He drove home on Saturday afternoon, 45 miles, then back on Sunday evening. We kids missed having our daddy to nurture us.

Enid would not move into the Bartelso Catholic Community. She was a Christian Scientist. We had weekend arguments and a stalemate endured between the two for 6 years.

In 1962, Dad had another heart attack. I married Elliott and left home. The folks wanted Mike in the best and safest high school possible.

So, in 1963, Mom finally consented to a new house built to her (modest) specifications east of Bartelso, on a hill. Dad started a whole new subdivision there, yet another community upgrade. Dad's genius for business had a positive influence on his birthright community.

Carlyle Lake History

<http://www.mvs.usace.army.mil/Missions/Recreation/CarlyleLake/History.aspx>

Excerpt

The Carlyle Lake project was completed in April of 1967 and the Carlyle Lake Dam was dedicated on June 3, 1967. The damming of the Kaskaskia River at Carlyle is 107 miles from the mouth of the river and creates the largest man-made lake in Illinois. At normal pool, Carlyle Lake is 15 miles long by 3 1/2 miles wide, covering 26,000 acres.

Built for the primary purpose of flood control, Carlyle Lake has come to have four other purposes. A secondary purpose is downstream navigation on the Kaskaskia River. The Carlyle reservoir is also used for water supply for local towns and industries.

Carlyle Lake is also a prime place for recreation. Recognized as one of the nation's top-ten sailing inland sailing lakes, Carlyle Lake is host to many races and regattas. Others find plenty of good opportunity for boating camping. And Carlyle Lake is an excellent place for the sportsman to go fishing and hunting.

Enid (LEINER) Bach and Robert Louis Bach 25th Wedding Anniversary posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

Enid & Bob Bach, for their 25th wedding anniversary, renewed their vows at Saint Cecelia's Catholic Church in Bartelso, Sante Fe Township, Clinton County, Illinois.

A reception followed at the VFW hall in Beckemeyer, Wade Township, Clinton County, Illinois.

Dad loved to participate in gatherings with friends and family.

A Catholic wedding ceremony was vital to grant Dad burial rites on consecrated ground, in the church graveyard.

He was taught that it was important to lie beside his deceased parents and extended family and have full burial rites. None of his siblings were buried there. In the end he chose Saint Johns Cemetery in Collinsville, a beautiful bald knob beside Enid's parents and siblings.

Enid chose to be cremated and have her ashes in a black box, interred on top of his coffin. (1991)

Standing on the bluff at the foot of their graves looking westward over the vast plain that once was the Mississippi River bottoms is inspirational.

Even though Bob and Enid were originally married in the Old Cathedral Roman Catholic Church in Saint Louis, they chose to renew their vows in the Saint Cecilia Roman Catholic Church in Bartelso.

It was Bob's childhood church, and they had a quiet ceremony without family or friends.

A Memory Tribute to Enid (LEINER) Bach posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

The last years of her life, Enid worked for an Attorney as his nanny. She was responsible for helping with his children.

Enid (LEINER) Bach had worked (1974) in the office of A.W. Cash Company (Cashco) in Decatur, Illinois. They manufactured valves. They were tearing out asbestos from the ceilings and walls and Enid had to walk through the open plant to get to her office.

The company failed to protect the employees with breathing apparatus as they conducted this restoration and Enid came home from work one day and informed Bonnie she thought she had ingested some of the asbestos material.

Less than twenty years later Enid contracted Mesothelioma cancer and this led to her death in 1991.

1991 Newspaper Death Notice Enid (LEINER) Bach posted by Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt

A Little Something About Your Author.....

Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C.

Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt circa 1995

Bonnie began her professional career working in her father; Robert Louis Bach's bank...the Bartelso Savings Bank in Bartelso, Santa Fe Township, Clinton County, Illinois, United States.

Learning such skills as documentation, organization, detail to accounting procedures and the necessity of keeping good records, Bonnie honed these skills, which would later be an asset in family history research.

Bonnie began her family history research career in 1975 after becoming a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Her first calling as a new member was to serve in the newly created genealogical department or known today as the Family History Center in the Springfield, Missouri Ward. This two-year calling gave Bonnie a tremendous amount of experience helping others to research their families.

In fact, she felt family history research was fun and came easy. When others took vacations to exotic places, Bonnie and family went to courthouses, cemeteries and libraries covering coast to coast in pursuit of her family records.

She walked on the old Dillard Plantation in Spotsylvania County, Virginia and collected souvenirs of a hand made nail and a hand made brick from the old plantation known as Aspen Grove. She cracked open the courthouse records in Randolph County, Illinois locating marriages, deeds, wills and court records deciphering her family roots in pursuit of knowledge concerning her ancestors.

While she endeavored to find these records, a profound love for her ancestors developed over the years and a strong sense of kinship for those who paved the trails in her past became a motivating factor in her desire to know the reasons for their sacrifices.

Parents, brothers, sisters, aunts and uncles all inquired of her stories and details of her family history research and she became a well-known scholar concerning their roots.

In reality, years of reading and studying increased her expertise and she made it look fun and easy to others. Due to her example she exhibited for the love of ancestors, she inspired others in her family to pursue their family history. All of this was accomplished while raising 6 children.

This dedication and talent did not go unnoticed by the Lord and over the course of several years, Bonnie was asked by her church to instruct several family history courses.

With the assistance of her husband; Floyd Thomas Pratt, Bonnie and Floyd developed several books and courses designed to increase the knowledge of family history researchers. These books, articles, stories and commentaries can be found at the following locations.

Being researchers of the highest degree, Bonnie and Floyd created  ratt ublications.

A Little Something About Your Author.....

Offering to the public, a series of books titled, Pratt Progenitor Papers. This series of volumes are a collection of legal documents, stories, pictures and historical presentations concerning the families of Missouri, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina.

The first three Volumes were released to the public in 1991 and were issued to 18 different libraries including the Library of Congress and the St. Louis Public Library. The next 11 volumes were sent to the Salt Lake Genealogical Library with 60 volumes scheduled for publication.

Bonnie and Floyd created the Genealogical Institute to further the education of serious researchers.

The Genealogical Institute offers a series of educational materials to teach and instruct the novice as well as advanced researchers, procedures Bonnie and Floyd have tried and tested to be of great value in family history research. These courses offer “a hands on” curriculum designed to instruct in investigative, deductive reasoning and logical techniques for tracking your family history. Many have found a treasure chest of knowledge when undertaking these courses.

Bonnie and Floyd have taken the hobby of genealogy and have enhanced it into a science. Heavy on instructions concerning documentation, research procedures, alternative sources and common public records, these courses are valuable tools for the family history researcher. The Pratts have been informed by researchers their material found in their publications are recorded as source validation for such organizations as the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) and the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR).

In pursuit of their family history knowledge, the Pratts did not fail in increasing their educational knowledge and both became qualified Family History Consultants (FHC) through a course study offered by their Church.

The Pratt's ability in family history research has amazed many experienced researchers. When Bonnie and Floyd are asked for help concerning a stumbling block in someone's family research, their quick wit and logical minds rapid fires instructions and procedures so fast the delighted researcher cannot write the instructions quickly enough. Little do other researchers realize, this knowledge has been acquired over 40 years of research.

As the years moved on, Mr. Pratt became concerned about their 40 years of hard research work of various family histories. After a serious heart attack in 2012, Mr. Pratt decided to post their collective bodies of work on a website making them available to all interested researchers without compensation.

After careful consideration, Mr. Pratt chose the website www.openlibrary.org. “Open Library” is a repository of millions of digital books available to the public for free.

There are two or more ways to access Bonnie and Floyd's publications.

If you open the website as listed above you click on the authors label on the left hand side and type Bonnie Kathleen (BACH) Pratt F.H.C. or Floyd Thomas Pratt F.H.C., M.A.G.I. The website will open to their name, click on the name and you will be directed to a listing with presently 78 publications (2015).

A Little Something About Your Author.....

Floyd Thomas Pratt F.H.C., M.A.G.I.

At the age of 19, Mr. Pratt embarked on a career in law enforcement. This experience gave him training in detective and investigative skills. Little did Mr. Pratt know, how useful these skills would be in the field of genealogy.

Floyd started his family research career in 1975 after becoming a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. His first calling as a new member was to serve in the newly created genealogical department or known today as the Family History Center in the Springfield, Missouri ward. This two-year calling gave Mr. Pratt a tremendous amount of experience helping others to research their families.

In fact, he felt family research came easy and required little effort on his part. In reality, years of reading and studying increased his expertise and he made it look easy to others. Over the course of several years, Mr. Pratt was asked by his church to instruct several family history courses. This experience established a deep profound love for family and ancestors. It was not uncommon for Mr. Pratt to spend 4 to 8 hours a day researching and compiling family histories in addition to his duties, as an entrepreneur in the insurance business.

The first major achievement for Mr. Pratt was a breakthrough on his Pratt family back to the early 1800's. Due to confusion with Pratt ancestors and not satisfied with just the direct line research, Mr. Pratt branched out to research all connected lines and allied families.

This dedication led to 50,000 individuals in his database and has achieved expert status for Mr. Pratt on the families of middle and eastern Missouri, eastern and western Tennessee and central North Carolina.

Concerning Mr. Pratt's style of research, he is a strong supporter of the "hands on" approach. When he took family vacations, they usually went to libraries, cemeteries, courthouses, National Archive centers, and visited family members in various states. He attended family reunions and obtained his material from the actual sources when possible.

Being a researcher of the highest degree, in 1991, Mr. Pratt created  Pratt Publications.

He began to offer to the public, a series of books titled, Pratt Progenitor Papers. This series of volumes are a collection of legal documents, stories, pictures and historical presentations concerning the families of Missouri, Tennessee and North Carolina.

The first three Volumes were released to the public in 1991 and were issued to 18 different libraries including the Library of Congress and the St. Louis Public Library. The next 11 volumes were sent to the Salt Lake Genealogical Library with 60 volumes scheduled for publication.

In 1996, Mr. Pratt created the  Genealogical Institute to further the education of serious researchers.

A Little Something About Your Author.....

The Genealogical Institute offers a series of educational materials to teach and instruct the novice as well as advanced researchers, procedures Mr. Pratt has tried and tested to be of great value in family history research. These courses offer “a hands on” curriculum designed to instruct in investigative, deductive reasoning and logical techniques for tracking your family history. Many have found a treasure chest of knowledge when undertaking these courses.

Mr. Pratt has taken the hobby of genealogy and has enhanced it into a science. Heavy on instructions concerning documentation, research procedures, alternative sources and common public records, these courses are valuable tools for the family history researcher. Mr. Pratt has been informed by researchers his material found in his publications are recorded as source validation for such organizations as the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) and the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR).

Upon completion of the educational courses from the Genealogical Institute, the graduate is awarded the Master Accreditation of the Genealogical Institute. (M.A.G.I.) Written in easy to read format with detailed explanations concerning various subjects of interest to family history researchers.

Mr. Pratt's ability in family history research has amazed many experienced researchers. When Mr. Pratt is asked for help concerning their “brick wall” in their family research, his quick wit and logical mind rapid fires instructions and procedures so fast they cannot write the material quickly enough. Little do they realize, this knowledge has been acquired over 40 years of research.

In June of 2000, Mr. Pratt undertook a new and unprecedented task. Outside of Washington, Saint John's Township, Franklin County, Missouri is an old cemetery called the Johnson-Caldwell Cemetery aka; misnamed the McAllister Cemetery. This cemetery has many pioneer heroes and ancestors of various descendants from that region. Some of the inhabitants were born in the 1750's and arrived in the Missouri Territory shortly after the 1803 Louisiana Purchase.

Mr. Pratt recorded all the information off of the headstones including every person in the cemetery and researched each individual related to Mr. Pratt or not. 1000 man-hours and two years later, he published the book “JOHNSON-CALDWELL CEMETERY OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI”©.

Obtaining newspapers, legal documents, talking to ancestors and researching various sources for any and all information concerning the history of the cemetery and the inhabitants produced this master text.

What makes this book unique is based on several factors. First, it is the only book to report on each inhabitant, their birth and activities throughout their life until their death, including their ancestors, spouses and children. Second, this book contains a unique index, listing the individual and their father's name if known. This is extremely helpful when several individuals have the same given name.

Upon examination, professional researchers have hailed this body of work as a masterpiece and a standard in which all future research should be based. No one has ever produced a body of work as unique and professional as this publication.

As the years moved on, Mr. Pratt became concerned about his 40 years of hard research work of various family histories. After a serious heart attack in 2012, Mr. Pratt decided to post his collective bodies of work on a website making them available to all interested researchers without compensation.

3. Use the information you receive as a starting point for your research of your families.
4. If you decide to use information you have received, in a book, document or research material, be sure to acknowledge the author or compiler of that material.
5. All inquiries by third parties for a copy of the material should be forwarded to the original compiler or author.
6. Do not loan or share your information, family heirlooms, special documents, one of a kind, pictures, or irreplaceable materials to non-professional researchers or family members. These types of materials seen to disappear or become damaged.
7. Make copies of important documents or materials when at libraries and be sure to write the name of the book, source, letter or film with the author's name and page number and year of publication.
8. Genealogy work that is not documented is of little value. Remember, you are leaving a trail for those who follow. If future researchers have to verify your work, then of what value is your work?
9. Collect family stories from those relatives who are still alive. This is a short cut to your past and they hold a world of knowledge about your family.
10. Do not try to finance all your research alone. Ask for financial assistance from interested family members.

Remember, the family history information that is so easily exchanged today by computer was acquired over years and years of on-site research. While many were engaged in raising families, working for income, and surviving, genealogist researchers did these things AND spent their free time in pursuit of the truth about their ancestors. This pursuit required great sacrifice of time, effort and money. Many researchers went to the actual locations to view the marriage, deed, death and birth records including visiting the cemeteries across the United States and foreign countries. This is why it is important to follow the above guidelines; by doing so, you give respect to their work and honor to their memory. Thank You.
